Sensational Sale of Suits

BEGINNING THIS MORNING.

Judging by the "cutting down" of prices in our Suit Department one would be led to believe that Halley's Comet had made a descent on them and shattered the prices, as there is practically 1-3 cut off.

You may think it strange to give you June and July prices at this time, just the beginning of Spring. Not strange at all, when you consider our reason for it.

Spring is earlier, our stock of Spring and Summer Dresses are coming in, and we must make room. This is the way we started to make room by putting a price on each Suit that will almost make them walk out alone. This is the quickest way, but, bear in mind, by cutting almost 1-3 off the prices we did not cut the value. The value is all there and well represent d. The quality, style, cut and fashion is the best you can find anywhere.

Fishing in Mid-Air.

Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton, who is an ardent follower of the lone fisher-man Walton, while trawling for pick-erel one day recently at his summer residence at Lake Wangumbaug, South residence at Lake Wangumbaug, South Coventry, had an unusual experience. The town official was engrossed in casting with a perch belly and on one of his attempts caught a blue heron on his hook in mid-air instead of landing a large pickerel that he had been trying to catch for a couple of hours. This is not one of the tales of the habitues of the "Muskrät club," as a well known professional man was along and vouches for the remarkable feat.

First of Players to Arrive. First of Players to Arrive.

The advance guard of Mayor Dunn and Bob O'Connell's Willimantic nine for the season of 1916 arrived in town Thursday noon in the person of Catcher Ackerman of Bridgeport, one of the first to sign a contract, and had his orders to report Thursday. He is a good rugged looking chap and quiet and unassuming, and has every appearance of being able to deliver the goods. He is a young man of exemplary habits and does not even use tobacco in any form.

tobacco in any form.

Mayor Dunn and Bob O'Connell were at Windham field Thursday and they soon had a force of men at work cleaning up the grounds and cutting away the turf several feet behind third, shortstop and second base and also getting the loose stones out of the diamond. A thin coating of fine loam is to be raked over the inited and a roll-provint over the same and then the said er put over the same and then the field will be one of the best around the cir-cuit. The minor repairs to the grand-stand and the fence, etc., will be at-tended to immediately and everything will be in condition for the men upon their arrival next Monday.

FOUND DEAD.

Man Believed to Be Daniel Clifford of New London.

Thursday forenoon Capt. E. H. Richmond of the local police force received a telephone message informing him that a man had been found dead on the Willimantic turnpike that leads to Colchester and that it was believed that the man was Daniel Clifford, a harness maker, of New London. The captain was informed that it was thought that a man named Nelson, a paperhanger, of this city, knew the dead man, but on investigation it was found that there was no such man in the city, but that there was a paperhanger by that name in Norwich. It was reported that the man died from natural causes probably some

There was nothing on the body to identify the man positively, but from papers found in a pocket it was concluded that he was Daniel Clifford.

At present the town of Colchester is caring for the body and the authorities there are making an effort to ascertain who the man's relatives are so certain who the man's relatives are so that the body may be turned over to that the body may be turned over to them.

Picture of State Mayors.

Mayor D. P. Dunn was busy Thursday showing to his visitors a fine large group photograph of the mayors of the state and Gov. Frank B. Weeks. The picture was taken on the day the mayors were entertained by the governor, when the safe and sane Fourth problem was discussed recently in Hartford. Governor Weeks sent the photograph to Mayor Dunn with his compliments.

Horse Lunches on Bag of Flour. Thursday afternoon a little after 1 o'clock the passersby on Main street were treated to a povel sight. About 1 o'clock f. D. Leach drove up Main street and hitched his horse to a convenient post near a dry goods store. In front of Mr. Leach's outfit was another, in the rear of which were a couple of has of grain and a paper hungry and after sniffing a while bit into the bag of flour and practically consumed the entire contents of the sack, and when the owner returned the horse was complacently licking up the scatterings in the back of the wagon Mr. Leach waited around until the owner of the flour came to the other team, and that owner proved to be a lady from one of the suburban towns. She was considerably excited when she saw that the horse had banqueted upon the basis of the ingredients for future fluffy rolls and bread. Mr. Leach, however, made good her loss.

Church Spire.

William K. Bath, who painted the cupola and spire of the Methodist Episcopal church last fall, as well as many of the flagpoles about town and in surrounding villages, has the contract for repainting the church spire of the Lebanoh Baptist church and to regild the figures and hands on the faces of the clock of the same church. The spire is much higher than the one on the local church, which had so much attention attracted to it when Mr. Bath was doing his aerial stunts. The nimble painter will commence on the Lebanon job within a couple of weeks. Church Spire.

Passed Fine Inspection.

Capt. P. J. F. Sullivan and Lieutenants Carpenter and Dondero and a large representation of the complement of Company L. First infantry, C. N. G., passed a most creditable inspection that was conducted at the Valley street armory Thursday evening in connection with the company's regular weekly drill by Maj. Edwin E. Lamb, commander of the First battalion.

The men were put through their paces in fine style and the various tacties were executed in a good 20.-dierly manner. There was a good sized gallery of friends and others interested in military matters present to witness the inspection.

W. H. S. to Play Westerly Today. Today will tell a portion of the story as to who will be likely contenders for the championship of the eastern division of the Connecticut Interscholastic Easeball association, when the champion Westerly High school nine and the representatives of Windham High school clash on Windham field this afternoon in the first game between these teams for the season of tween these teams for the season of Manager Richmond said Thursday afternoon that in all probability the nine would take the field with the same batting order that it presented against N. F. A. last week, but there was a possibility that Frost, who has been on the sick list, might get into the game, which would materially strengthen the nine. Captain Leonard has been giving the men good workouts the past week and the players are in very fair condition, considering the unfavorable weather that has been encountered recently.
